VIEW OF THE CAMPUS

The Athens School

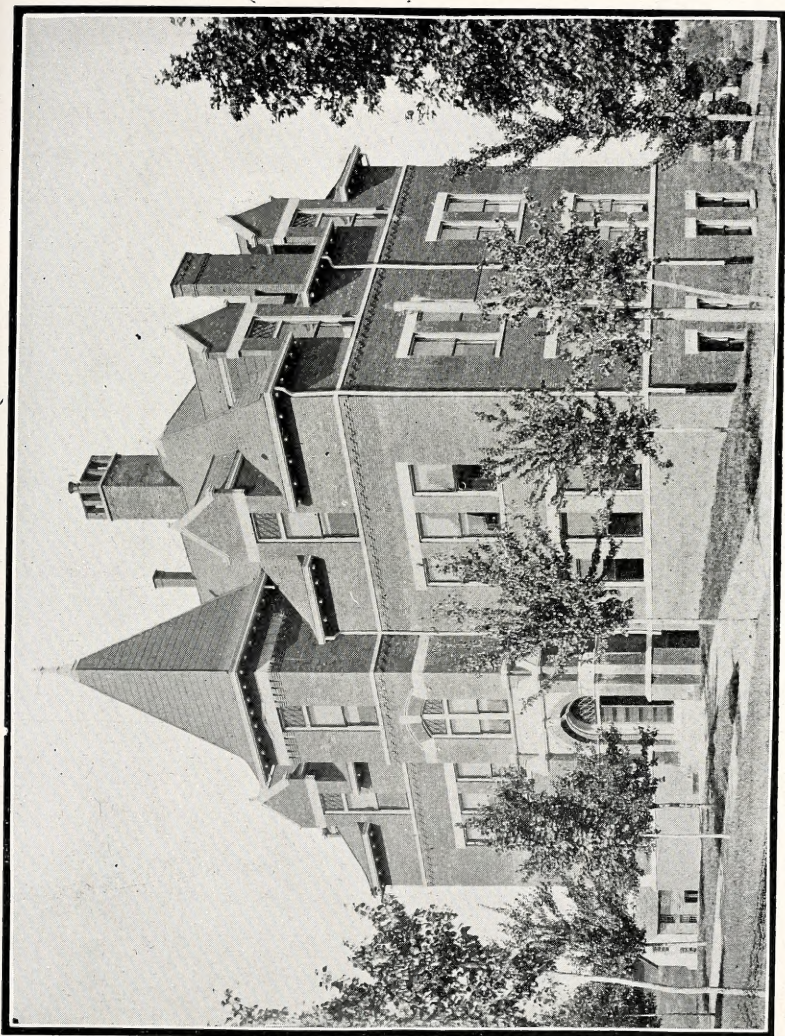

stands for Christian culture. While the institution is under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in no sense are sectarian lines ever drawn.

THE C. H. BANFIELD MEMORIAL HALL

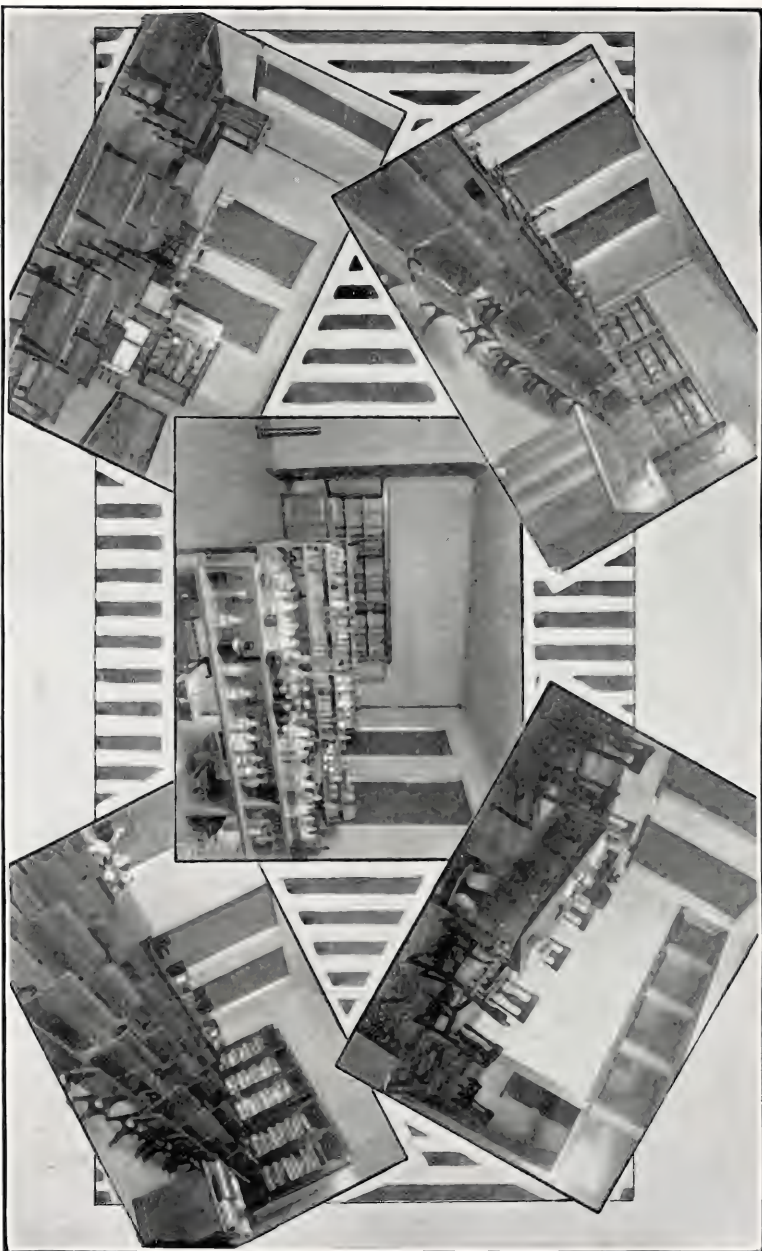

Erected by Mr. William Banfield, is a magnificent structure of brick and stone, and most admirably adapted to its purposes. It contains the offices, recitation rooms, laboratories, library and ladies' society halls. It is heated with steam and lighted with electricity.

§ 2 § 2 Literary Societies § 2 § 2

At Athens there are four literary societies organized under the laws of the University—the Athenian and Philomathean for gentlemen; the Sapphonian and Knightonian for ladies. Each has a separate hall for meeting, a large, active membership and an appropriate library. Experience has demonstrated the value of these organizations in developing the literary taste, as well as ease and gracefulness of expression.

NOTE — A semester embraces seventeen weeks. The scholastic year is divided into two semesters, instead of three terms, as heretofore.

All charges for Tuition, Incidentals and Rents must be paid in advance, and no professor will receive a student into his class except upon the presentation of a ticket showing that a settlement has been made with the Treasurer of the Faculty. Any student who is permitted to take a college study will pay college tuition. No deduction will be made for absence during the last three weeks of any term. (By order of the Board of Trustees, and will be rigidly enforced.)
